Ralph Waldo Emerson (25 May 1803 – 27 April 1882) was an American philosopher, essayist, and poet. The cup of life is not so shallow That we have drained the best That all the wine at once we swallow And lees make all the rest. 1827 journal entry reproduced in Emerson: The Mind on Fire (1995), p. 82. The man who renounces himself, comes to himself. These life stories highlight the fulfillment that James derived from his devotion to writing, along with the insecurity and loneliness with which he wrestled, as borne out in his letters and notebooks. There is disagreement about certain aspects of James’s life, particularly the nature of his sexuality, his political convictions, his seeming prejudices, and his sense of national affiliation. Thomas Carlyle, Ralph Waldo Emerson, and Margaret Fuller. Henry James, Jr., was born on April 15, 1843, in New York City at 21 Washington Place.

Waldo refers to Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-82), the American poet and essayist whose thinking was particularly influential in New England, the stomping-ground of cousin Nancy in Eliot's poem. Work (Critical Companion Series) , as a bulwark against the catastrophe that Nancy's aimless energy betokens. The final line of "Cousin Nancy" is taken from another Victorian figure, this time the novelist and poet George Meredith, and his poem "Lucifer in Starlight": On a starred night Prince Lucifer uprose. Poor prey to his hot fit of pride were those. And now upon his western wing he leaned, Now his huge bulk o'er Africa's sands careened, Now the black planet shadowed Arctic snows. Ralph Waldo Emerson. For every minute you are angry you lose sixty seconds of happiness. You Happiness. Ralph Waldo Emerson. It is one of the blessings of old friends that you can afford to be stupid with them. You Friends. Ralph Waldo Emerson. What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us. Ralph Waldo Emerson. Life is a succession of lessons which must be lived to be understood. Life. Ralph Waldo Emerson. Ralph Waldo Emerson. Common sense is genius dressed in its working clothes. Ralph Waldo Emerson. Life is a series of surprises and would not be worth taking or keeping if it were not. It is chosen and foreordained and he only holds the key to his own secret. You. Ralph Waldo Emerson. Ralph Waldo Emerson does judge the many by his impressions of the few; he treats all alike and generalises bombastically - that is, he philosophises. After all, it means "I utter this and that, lacking great evidence a long way - yes, I lack proof." One may safely say that Emerson is overdoing lots of things rather often and that he claims causes, but without having proper proof, etc. Still, that does not exclude he could be spot-on in some instances, only that solid back-up evidence is lacking.
