<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>The Adventures of Sir Balin the Ill-Fated by Gerald Morris</th>
<th>Fantasy</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

On the day of Balin’s christening, he was pronounced ill-fated. He would be the noblest knight in England who would also bring misfortune and calamity to all. He would also bring down two kingdoms and destroy the knight he loves the most. Young Balin lived by the prophecy, avoiding contact with King Arthur or his brother Sir Balan, only to find fate helping him in defeating the evil and saving the good. In the end, he decided that he would make his way.

This story of a knight is filled with dark and absurdist humor. It features brotherly love between Sir Balin and Sir Balan. It has a warm, happy ending with a surprising twist.

Linda Sun
Hong Kong

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>The Ballad of Jesse Pearl by Shannon Hitchcock</th>
<th>Historical American Fiction</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Using a rural dialect of North Carolina, Hitchcock exposes readers to family life and traditions in the early 1920s. Fourteen-year-old Jesse Pearl plans to become a teacher during a time when women are expected to marry. She still hears her deceased mother’s voice encouraging her to continue her education. Unfortunately, Jesse must put her dreams aside to care for an older sister who suddenly comes down with tuberculosis. With that comes the sudden responsibility of caring for all of the males in the family—her father, her sister’s husband, and her sister’s newborn son—and “traditional women’s work” is not Jesse’s forte. To complicate matters, Jesse has real feelings for a local boy who is also interested in her, but who has a nemesis who gets her nose in Jesse’s business in more ways than one. This debut novel is packed with much to think and talk about and is a nice addition to the growing collection of charming Southern YA literature; the author will present at the ALAN Workshop in Boston.

Joan Kaywell
Tampa, FL

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>The Bell Bandit by Jacqueline Davis</th>
<th>Realistic Fiction</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Evan and Jessie always spend their Christmas at their grandma’s and ring the New Year bell with the rest of the town. This year, there has been a fire at grandma’s house and the bell has gone missing. Moreover, grandma is suffering from memory loss and sporadically forgets who Evan and Jessie are. Evan and Jessie struggle to understand her condition, but they realize this holiday season is going to be rough.

The traumatic fire turns out to be a transformational event for this family. When one family member is in trouble, others jump in and help. Evan takes up the job of reconstructing grandma’s house while Jessie solves the mystery of the missing bell. They work together, take care of each other, and restore peace at their grandma’s house.

Linda Sun
Hong Kong

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Brianna on the Brink by Nicole McInnes</th>
<th>Realistic Fiction/Identity</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Brianna has never felt like part of a family. Her mother kicked her out on her sixteenth birthday, and now she lives with her sister, who pays more attention to her loser boyfriend than Brianna. At least at school, Brianna feels like she fits in. She has worked hard to be a popular, bad-girl cheerleader who everyone respects. All of this changes when Brianna has a disastrous one-night stand with a man she didn’t know was married to her English teacher.

Left deserted by her family and friends in the wake of her mistake, Brianna learns to accept help from the teacher she hurt so badly. Through this experience, she learns to let down her guard and become a part of a real, loving family. Brianna may teeter on the brink of bad decision making and its consequences, but she learns how to catch herself before she falls.

Laura Cockman
Fishers, IN Eleanor and Park

by Rainbow Rowell

Romance/Identity

St. Martin's Griffin, 2013, 288 pp., $17.99

*Editor’s Journey by Sonja Nazario

Eleanor is the new girl in 1986 Omaha; Park reluctantly allows her to sit by him on the school bus to save her from the bullies. Erosion of their friendship is matched by a spellbinding young adult romance.

Judith A. Hayn

Little Rock, AR

---

Enrique’s Journey

by Sonia Nazario

Nonfiction

Delacorte, 2013, 240 pp., $17.99

An adaptation for young readers of Nazario's original 2006 nonfiction work, the book is subtitled "The True Story of a Boy Risking His Life for the American Dream." It explores the power of love they are missing. The reconciliation is bittersweet as the plight of illegal aliens threatens to destroy a dream.

Judith A. Hayn

Little Rock, AR

---

Call Me Oklahoma!

by Miriam Glassman

Realistic Fiction/Humor

Holiday House, 2013, 123 pp., $16.95

ISBN: 978-0-8234-2742-0

On the first day of fourth grade, Paige decides that she doesn’t want to feel like a little mouse anymore. She is going to be a tiger. As her new name Oklahoma catches on, she decides that she is happy being Paige; there is nothing she can’t do as Paige.

Linda Sun

Hong Kong
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Author</th>
<th>Genres</th>
<th>Publisher</th>
<th>Pages</th>
<th>Price</th>
<th>ISBN</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Yancey delivers a dystopian, post-apocalyptic thriller featuring a kick-butt heroine. Aliens have come to destroy Earth’s inhabitants through a series of ever-worsening Waves. Once an ordinary high school girl with a crush on a guy who doesn’t know she is alive, Cassie Sullivan is now struggling for her own survival while seeking her younger brother, who vanished when children were transported out of a refugee camp. Packing a Luger and M-16, she dodges her relentless pursuers, including unyielding drones and ruthless snipers. Evan Walker rescues her from freezing to death after she is shot, and the two experience moments of closeness. Five-year-old Sammy is imprisoned at Camp Haven, a massive concentration facility designed to winnow out the weak, convert the inmates, and train killing machines. Who can she rely on when the Others are us and we are them? Will her obsession with a boy from the past doom or save her?</td>
<td>Judith A. Hayn</td>
<td>Little Rock, AR</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mirka Herschberg, the eleven-year-old Orthodox Jewish heroine, is back and she’s still marching to the beat of her own drum. After being un-grounded for sneaking out at night, fighting a troll, and talking to a witch, Mirka finds herself in trouble again. When a troll summons a destructive meteorite toward the Earth, a witch uses a few strands of Mirka’s hair to transform the meteorite into Metty, Mirka’s doppelganger. Metty is not only clever, intelligent, and better at basketball, but also determined to replace Mirka. As Mirka plans to get rid of Metty, she starts to understand that being yourself—even if you are silly, goofy, or clumsy—is better than having a perfect copy of yourself. Deutsch’s story is colorful and captivating in the way that it incorporates Jewish culture and faith. Hereville places great emphasis on the importance of understanding that everyone is special in their own way.</td>
<td>David Chang</td>
<td>Chicago, IL</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Like other teens, Rose Hathaway goes to school, has a crush, and deals with her embarrassing mom. But unlike most other teens, Rose is a dhampir—a half-human, half-vampire training to become a guardian in the battle between good and evil. Rose’s main goal is to protect her best friend Lissa, a vampire princess with the special power to control the spirit element. Protecting Lissa is not always easy for Rose as she navigates relationships with boys, family, and friends. However, when some students leave their safe haven to attack the Strigoi, a group of evil vampires, Rose learns how far she will go to protect her loved ones and how she can use her intellect and powers to fight for good. This graphic adaptation of Richelle Mead’s original series tells Rose’s action-packed story in both words and stunningly bright pictures for a comprehensive story experience.</td>
<td>Laura Cockman</td>
<td>Fishers, IN</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Like other teens, Rose Hathaway goes to school, has a crush, and deals with her embarrassing mom. But unlike most other teens, Rose is a dhampir—a half-human, half-vampire training to become a guardian in the battle between good and evil. Rose’s main goal is to protect her best friend Lissa, a vampire princess with the special power to control the spirit element. Protecting Lissa is not always easy for Rose as she navigates relationships with boys, family, and friends. However, when some students leave their safe haven to attack the Strigoi, a group of evil vampires, Rose learns how far she will go to protect her loved ones and how she can use her intellect and powers to fight for good. This graphic adaptation of Richelle Mead’s original series tells Rose’s action-packed story in both words and stunningly bright pictures for a comprehensive story experience.</td>
<td>Laura Cockman</td>
<td>Fishers, IN</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hunter and Zach Moran might have been the twins who originated the phrase “Double Trouble.” Armed with only their wits and good intentions, Hunter and Zach must find a way to intervene before a sinister dentist, Dr. Digilo, sets off a bomb in their town—blowing the whole place to smithereens. The boys juggle nosy parents, tag-along siblings, and the preparations for their town’s “Lester Tinwitty Day,” all while attempting the save the universe. Everything comes down to last seconds—either before the town’s celebration, or before the town will meet its end. Two-time Newbery Honor medalist Reilly Giff writes characters that charm readers who are thrilled to be along on their adventures. Her latest novel lands right in the middle of mountains of mischief and will not leave her audience disappointed.</td>
<td>Rachel Marie Morris</td>
<td>Brooklyn, New York</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hunter and Zach Moran might have been the twins who originated the phrase “Double Trouble.” Armed with only their wits and good intentions, Hunter and Zach must find a way to intervene before a sinister dentist, Dr. Digilo, sets off a bomb in their town—blowing the whole place to smithereens. The boys juggle nosy parents, tag-along siblings, and the preparations for their town’s “Lester Tinwitty Day,” all while attempting the save the universe. Everything comes down to last seconds—either before the town’s celebration, or before the town will meet its end. Two-time Newbery Honor medalist Reilly Giff writes characters that charm readers who are thrilled to be along on their adventures. Her latest novel lands right in the middle of mountains of mischief and will not leave her audience disappointed.</td>
<td>Rachel Marie Morris</td>
<td>Brooklyn, New York</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Clip & File YA Book Reviews
Hurricane Heat

by Steven Barwin

Realistic/Athletics

Orca, 2013, 162 pp., $9.95
ISBN: 978-1-4598-0213-1

It's been five years since Travis's parents died in a car crash and he was separated from his sister Amanda. After Amanda left for college, Travis has been on his own. He has to care for himself, cook, and clean. He has to balance his baseball career and his family responsibilities. He has to make decisions about his future, about how he wants to live his life. His friends and teammates are there to support him, but Travis has to make his own decisions. He has to learn to be responsible, to take care of himself and his family.

Island of Thieves

by Josh Lacey

Action/Adventure

Houghton Mifflin Harcourt, 2011, 228 pp., $15.99
ISBN: 978-0-547-76327-9

Two things come easily to Tom Trelawney: getting bored and getting in trouble. When his parents need somebody to take care of their garden, Tom decides to take on the job. He meets a new friend, a boy named Harvey, who has a treasure map. Tom and Harvey go on a adventure to find the treasure. They learn about history and how the treasure was hidden. They also learn about the importance of family and the value of responsibility.

Lauren Yanofsky Hates the Holocaust

by Leanne Lieberman

Teen/Romance

Orca, 2013, 227 pp., $12.95
ISBN: 978-1-4598-0109-7

Lauren Yanofsky, as the name suggests, loathes the Holocaust, despite her Jewish background. With a father who studies the Holocaust, Lauren has a lot of knowledge about the history. Lauren meets a new friend, a boy named Max, who is also Jewish. Lauren and Max have to make decisions about how they are going to live their lives. They have to balance their love and their beliefs. They have to decide how they are going to live their lives.

In Too Deep

by Norah McClintock

Mystery/Juvenile Delinquency

Lerner, 2013, 218 pp., $17.99

Robyn moves to a sleepy town up north with her friend Morgan. The town seems pretty safe when they first arrive, but they soon discover that the town is far from safe. They meet a new friend, a boy named Luke, who is a part of a gang. Luke and his friends have been stealing from the people of the town. Robyn and Morgan have to make decisions about how they are going to live their lives. They have to decide how they are going to protect themselves and their friends.

In Too Deep

by Norah McClintock

Mystery/Juvenile Delinquency

Lerner, 2013, 218 pp., $17.99

Robyn moves to a sleepy town up north with her friend Morgan. The town seems pretty safe when they first arrive, but they soon discover that the town is far from safe. They meet a new friend, a boy named Luke, who is a part of a gang. Luke and his friends have been stealing from the people of the town. Robyn and Morgan have to make decisions about how they are going to live their lives. They have to decide how they are going to protect themselves and their friends.

In Too Deep

by Norah McClintock

Mystery/Juvenile Delinquency

Lerner, 2013, 218 pp., $17.99

Robyn moves to a sleepy town up north with her friend Morgan. The town seems pretty safe when they first arrive, but they soon discover that the town is far from safe. They meet a new friend, a boy named Luke, who is a part of a gang. Luke and his friends have been stealing from the people of the town. Robyn and Morgan have to make decisions about how they are going to live their lives. They have to decide how they are going to protect themselves and their friends.

In Too Deep

by Norah McClintock

Mystery/Juvenile Delinquency

Lerner, 2013, 218 pp., $17.99

Robyn moves to a sleepy town up north with her friend Morgan. The town seems pretty safe when they first arrive, but they soon discover that the town is far from safe. They meet a new friend, a boy named Luke, who is a part of a gang. Luke and his friends have been stealing from the people of the town. Robyn and Morgan have to make decisions about how they are going to live their lives. They have to decide how they are going to protect themselves and their friends.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>The Lives We Lost by Megan Crewe</th>
<th>Adventure/Teen Fiction</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Crewe’s suspenseful second novel in The Fallen World series opens with heroine Kaelyn discovering a potentially lifesaving vaccine developed by her deceased father, a renowned scientist in their island community. As a deadly pandemic sweeps across North America, she rallies her friends on a journey to the mainland in search of researchers who can reproduce the healing medicine and rid their world of devastation once and for all. Their harrowing adventure brings them face to face with violence, desperation, and the worst fears, and reveals the tension between morality and survival in apocalyptic times. Kaelyn displays courage and incredible selflessness in the midst of overwhelming danger, all the while struggling with what to think about the crumbling world around her. The Lives We Lost blends many elements of a great story—secret romance, anticipation, and characters with depth. | Rebekah Capps
Nashville, TN |

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Maybe I Will by Laurie Gray</th>
<th>Teen Fiction</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Is an act of sexual violence more traumatizing for a female victim than a male? Maybe I Will shares the story of a teenager who is the object of a nonconsensual sexual act. Sandy’s two closest friends turn away when they are needed the most. Other adults do not seem to care or do not believe. Lost, confused, and violated, Sandy turns to alcohol as a numbing agent and best friend. All the childhood dreams and ambitions are diluted. Not only does this story tell one victim’s response to sexual assault, it questions the meaning, or lack thereof, of gender roles as Sandy’s gender is never revealed. Readers can directly relate to Sandy as they are able to make him/her relevant to their personal experiences. Sandy deals with the assault the same way—the same trauma, the same betrayal, and the same substance abuse—regardless of her/his gender. | Anna Lee
Minnestrista, MN |

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>The Morning Star by Robin Bridges</th>
<th>Fantasy</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Katerina Alexandrovna, the young Duchess of Oldenburg, dreams of becoming a doctor, not a necromancer. Tsar Alexander will not allow her to attend medical school, so she continues her studies with Tibetan medic Dr. Badmaev. Her love for the Tsar’s son, the ailing George Alexandrovich, is threatened by her desire to learn how to cure him. Vampires, werewolves, shape shifters, and wizards populate the Kremlin of Romanov Russia as Katerina’s former fiancé Crown Prince Danilo returns. The illicit tsar Constantine has inhabited Danilo’s soul and now seeks the Morning Star, an ancient sword that will enable a necromancer to command a magical army. He also intends to marry Katerina and gain the throne. Kidnapped by Danilo, Katerina seeks the sword in Egypt. Will she wield the Morning Star to save Russia, and will her love for George win out over evil in the final volume of the Katerina trilogy? | Judith A. Hayn
Little Rock, AR |

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>My Summer of Pink &amp; Green by Lisa Greenwald</th>
<th>Realistic Fiction / Relationships</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| In this sequel to My Life in Pink & Green, 13-year-old Lucy Desberg is ready to spend the summer helping out with the eco-spa her family is building. But her summer doesn’t turn out as she had planned. The adults don’t need her around to help with the spa, and her sister and best friend always seem busy with their boyfriends. The only person left to spend time with Lucy is Bevin, the spa investor’s immature daughter. When even Bevin gets mad at Lucy for trying to give her a life makeover, Lucy realizes that maybe instead of always trying to make over other people, she should make over her own attitude. Lucy learns the importance of appreciating other people for who they are. As she strives to be a better friend, sister, and daughter, she offers tips to readers so that they can become the best versions of themselves, too. | Laura Cockman
Fishers, IN |
YA Book Reviews

Nantucket Blue
by Leila Howland
Young Adult Fiction/Summer Romance
Hyperion, 2013, 304 pp., $16.99
ISBN: 978-1-4231-7919-1

When Cricket Thompson’s best friend, Jules Clayton, invites her to Nantucket for the summer, she’s expecting a story about the fragility of friendship, the excitement of first love, and the importance of standing up for oneself.

---

Teenboat
by Dave Roman and John Green
Graphic Novel/Humor
ISBN: 978-0-547-63669-6

Teenboat, a high school student with the superpower to turn into a small yacht, wants to be popular so that his crush, Mary, will notice him. His best friend, a high school student with the superpower to turn into a small whale, wants to learn more about himself and his identity.

---

Tagged
by Eric Walters
School/Street Art
Orca, 2013, 136 pp., $9.95
ISBN: 978-1-4598-0167-7

Ian Cheevers is enjoying spending his last year of high school with his two best friends, Oswald and Julia. One of his biggest issues is that he has never had a girlfriend. Will Ian find a way to make his opinions heard in his art appreciation class? Will he find a way to turn his school into the art gallery it was meant to be? Will the mysterious Wiz ever reveal his true identity?

---

Sean Griswold’s Head
by Lindsey Leavitt
Young Adult Fiction/Identity
Bloomsbury USA Children’s, 2012, 304 pp., $9.99
ISBN: 978-1-59990-911-0

When Payton Gritas’s guidance counselor tells her to express her suppressed emotions in a focus journal, she thinks that it’s the answer to all of her problems. Lindsey Leavitt tells the heartbreaking yet hilarious story of a teen girl navigating the aftermath of a devastating discovery.

---

Teenboat
by Dave Roman and John Green
Graphic Novel/Humor
ISBN: 978-0-547-63669-6

Teenboat, a high school student with the superpower to turn into a small yacht, wants to be popular so that his crush, Mary, will notice him. His best friend, a high school student with the superpower to turn into a small whale, wants to learn more about himself and his identity.

---

The Marionettes
by Linda Leinweber
Young Adult Fiction/Summer Romance
ISBN: 978-0-312-62139-0

When Cricket Thompson’s best friend, Jules Clayton, invites her to Nantucket for the summer, she’s expecting a story about the fragility of friendship, the excitement of first love, and the importance of standing up for oneself.

---

The Marionettes
by Linda Leinweber
Young Adult Fiction/Summer Romance
ISBN: 978-0-312-62139-0

When Cricket Thompson’s best friend, Jules Clayton, invites her to Nantucket for the summer, she’s expecting a story about the fragility of friendship, the excitement of first love, and the importance of standing up for oneself.

---
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Author</th>
<th>Publisher</th>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Pages</th>
<th>ISBN</th>
<th>Genre</th>
<th>Reviewer</th>
<th>Location</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A Soldier’s Secret</td>
<td>Marissa Moss</td>
<td>Amulet Books, 2012</td>
<td>387</td>
<td>$16.95</td>
<td>976-2-4197-0427-7</td>
<td>Historical Fiction</td>
<td>Laura Cramer</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Private Frank Thomson of the Second Michigan Volunteer Infantry has his work cut out for him in the Union Army during the War between the States: running from battlefield to hospital as a nurse, delivering letters to his fellow soldiers as mail carrier, and gaining critical information from behind enemy lines as a spy. Yet the anxiety Frank feels going into battle is no match for the anxiety he experiences every day: Frank’s real name is Sarah Emma Edmonds. She is masquerading as a man. Marissa Moss’s moment-by-moment account of the true story of Sarah Emma Edmonds provides an accessible avenue for adolescent readers to understand the Civil War, the rights of women, and the timeless struggle for equality. Blending historical facts, including photographs and character names, with a fresh voice for Sarah Edmonds, Moss breathes life into her story grounded in history.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Flinn continues her series of revamped fairy tales in this contemporary version of Rapunzel. As in the original, Rachel with her long golden hair is imprisoned in a tower in the woods, this time rural Slakkil, NY. Seventeen-year-old Wyatt has come to the isolated community to recover from the death of his best friend and sister. He stays with his mom’s acquaintance, elderly Mrs. Greenwood, whose daughter Danielle mysteriously disappeared years ago. Wyatt hears Rachel’s heartrending songs and follows her voice; their meeting eventually fulfills a prophecy that will help solve the mystery of Dani’s disappearance. The two lovers are destined to remove a curse grounded in modern society’s drug culture that has threatened the area for years. Enough of the fantastic is coupled with the tenderness of young love amidst the threat of impending violence—a magical read for fans of the genre.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Time between Us</td>
<td>Tamara Ireland Stone</td>
<td>Hyperion, 2012</td>
<td>384</td>
<td>$17.99</td>
<td>978-1-4321-6840-9</td>
<td>Fiction/Romance/Time Travel</td>
<td>Diana Liu</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Growing up in 1990s suburbia, Anna Greene is a pretty normal teenager. She goes to school, runs cross-country, and works in her family’s bookstore. But one day, everything changes when Anna notices a shaggy-haired boy watching her on an early morning run. One moment, he’s there; the next moment, he’s disappeared into thin air. Anna is perplexed at first, but once she runs into the mysterious boy at school, she quickly realizes that her life will never be the same again, because Bennett Cooper has a secret—a secret that will not only bring them together, but can also tear them apart. In her debut novel, Tamara Ireland Stone weaves together a captivating story that addresses the classic question of whether or not love can truly stand the test of time.</td>
<td>Laura Cramer</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Time between Us</td>
<td>Tamara Ireland Stone</td>
<td>Hyperion, 2012</td>
<td>384</td>
<td>$17.99</td>
<td>978-1-4321-6840-9</td>
<td>Fiction/Romance/Time Travel</td>
<td>Diana Liu</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Growing up in 1990s suburbia, Anna Greene is a pretty normal teenager. She goes to school, runs cross-country, and works in her family’s bookstore. But one day, everything changes when Anna notices a shaggy-haired boy watching her on an early morning run. One moment, he’s there; the next moment, he’s disappeared into thin air. Anna is perplexed at first, but once she runs into the mysterious boy at school, she quickly realizes that her life will never be the same again, because Bennett Cooper has a secret—a secret that will not only bring them together, but can also tear them apart. In her debut novel, Tamara Ireland Stone weaves together a captivating story that addresses the classic question of whether or not love can truly stand the test of time.</td>
<td>Laura Cramer</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Time between Us</td>
<td>Tamara Ireland Stone</td>
<td>Hyperion, 2012</td>
<td>384</td>
<td>$17.99</td>
<td>978-1-4321-6840-9</td>
<td>Fiction/Romance/Time Travel</td>
<td>Diana Liu</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Growing up in 1990s suburbia, Anna Greene is a pretty normal teenager. She goes to school, runs cross-country, and works in her family’s bookstore. But one day, everything changes when Anna notices a shaggy-haired boy watching her on an early morning run. One moment, he’s there; the next moment, he’s disappeared into thin air. Anna is perplexed at first, but once she runs into the mysterious boy at school, she quickly realizes that her life will never be the same again, because Bennett Cooper has a secret—a secret that will not only bring them together, but can also tear them apart. In her debut novel, Tamara Ireland Stone weaves together a captivating story that addresses the classic question of whether or not love can truly stand the test of time.</td>
<td>Laura Cramer</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Time between Us</td>
<td>Tamara Ireland Stone</td>
<td>Hyperion, 2012</td>
<td>384</td>
<td>$17.99</td>
<td>978-1-4321-6840-9</td>
<td>Fiction/Romance/Time Travel</td>
<td>Diana Liu</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Growing up in 1990s suburbia, Anna Greene is a pretty normal teenager. She goes to school, runs cross-country, and works in her family’s bookstore. But one day, everything changes when Anna notices a shaggy-haired boy watching her on an early morning run. One moment, he’s there; the next moment, he’s disappeared into thin air. Anna is perplexed at first, but once she runs into the mysterious boy at school, she quickly realizes that her life will never be the same again, because Bennett Cooper has a secret—a secret that will not only bring them together, but can also tear them apart. In her debut novel, Tamara Ireland Stone weaves together a captivating story that addresses the classic question of whether or not love can truly stand the test of time.</td>
<td>Laura Cramer</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Time between Us</td>
<td>Tamara Ireland Stone</td>
<td>Hyperion, 2012</td>
<td>384</td>
<td>$17.99</td>
<td>978-1-4321-6840-9</td>
<td>Fiction/Romance/Time Travel</td>
<td>Diana Liu</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Growing up in 1990s suburbia, Anna Greene is a pretty normal teenager. She goes to school, runs cross-country, and works in her family’s bookstore. But one day, everything changes when Anna notices a shaggy-haired boy watching her on an early morning run. One moment, he’s there; the next moment, he’s disappeared into thin air. Anna is perplexed at first, but once she runs into the mysterious boy at school, she quickly realizes that her life will never be the same again, because Bennett Cooper has a secret—a secret that will not only bring them together, but can also tear them apart. In her debut novel, Tamara Ireland Stone weaves together a captivating story that addresses the classic question of whether or not love can truly stand the test of time.</td>
<td>Laura Cramer</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Whatever Doesn’t Kill You</td>
<td>Elizabeth Wennick</td>
<td>Orca, 2013</td>
<td>202</td>
<td>$12.95</td>
<td>978-1-4598-0083-0</td>
<td>Drama/Mystery</td>
<td>Rachel Wilkinson</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jenna Cooper was born into tragedy. A few days after her birth, her father was murdered and her family began a tailspin that ended with her mother locked away in a nursing home, her sister addicted to alcohol, and her brother desperately trying to keep what was left of the family intact. When Jenna finds a photo of her father’s murderer, Travis Bingham, staring back at her in a newspaper article announcing his release from prison, she becomes determined to find him and give him a piece of her mind. Despite friends and family urging her to move on, Jenna remains unwavering in her pursuit of Travis and begins to discover that the story behind her father’s death contains a bevy of buried secrets that could compromise her relationships with her loved ones.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Whatever Doesn’t Kill You</td>
<td>Elizabeth Wennick</td>
<td>Orca, 2013</td>
<td>202</td>
<td>$12.95</td>
<td>978-1-4598-0083-0</td>
<td>Drama/Mystery</td>
<td>Rachel Wilkinson</td>
<td>Nashville, TN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Title</td>
<td>Author</td>
<td>Genre/Category</td>
<td>Publisher</td>
<td>Pages</td>
<td>Price</td>
<td>ISBN</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------</td>
<td>--------</td>
<td>---------------</td>
<td>-----------</td>
<td>-------</td>
<td>--------</td>
<td>---------------</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>William and the Lost Spirit</td>
<td>Gwen de Bonneval &amp; Matthieu Bonhomme</td>
<td>Fantasy Fiction/Adventure</td>
<td>Graphic Universe</td>
<td>160</td>
<td>$9.95</td>
<td>978-1-4677-0807-4</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

When You Wish upon a Rat
by Maureen McCarthy
Fiction/Middle School

What would you do if you were given the chance to perfect your life with three wishes? For Ruth Craze, an overworked and underfed 10th-grader, the three wishes are a perfect meal, a trip to Europe, and the right clothes to boost her confidence. But then Rodney the Rat enters her life. Rodney the Rat is a rat who can talk, and he promises to grant Ruth her wishes. However, every wish has a price. When Rodney forces Ruth to feed him human food, she starts to wonder if her life is really better off with wishes.

Diana Liu
Nashville, TN

Publishers who wish to submit a book for possible review should send a copy of the book to: Melanie Hundley
1021 Delmas Ave.
Nashville, TN 37216-3630

To submit a review for possible publication or to become a reviewer, contact Melanie Hundley at melanie.hundley@Vanderbilt.edu.
Book review writing is not always easy. There are many aspects of review writing which should be taken care of. In order to learn all about the book review writing task, you need to do research. However, the better option for a perfect review writing is downloading book review templates. These templates will work as Performance Review Templates. They will allow you to learn your mistakes and enhance the accuracy in your reviews. Online book review magazine: Guides you to the best new and current books, includes reviews, excerpts, reading lists, find a book tool, info for book clubs & more. In October of 1966, Huey P. Newton and Bobby Seale of Oakland California founded the Black Panther Party for Self-Defense, which later became the Black Panther Party. A book review is a summary of a book that you have read. You should review all aspects of the story. A book review is therefore written after reading (you may always order review at writing service without reading a book) because without reading the book it is difficult to figure out what it is all about and the review will, therefore not make sense. A wide reader will have an easy time in book review writing. This article highlights the guidelines for review writing. Content of this article. Preparations.